Mr. Mike Morath
Commissioner
Texas Education Agency
William B. Travis Building, Room 2-185
Agency Code: 701

Dear Commissioner Morath,

Senate Bill 175, passed by the 81st Legislature, modified the "Top 10%" automatic admission program at The University of Texas at Austin. Under SB 175, UT Austin is required to offer automatic admission to "75 percent of the university's enrollment capacity designated for first-time resident undergraduate students in an academic year."

Section 51.805 (a-2) of the Texas Education Code (TEC) requires the university, in a manner prescribed by the Texas Education Agency (TEA) and not later than September 15 annually, to:

provide to each school district, for dissemination of the information to high school junior-level students and their parents, notice of which percentile ranks of high school senior-level students who qualify for automatic admission under Subsection (a) are anticipated by the institution to be offered admission under Subsection (a-1) during the next school year.

Using data from recent years, the university has determined that automatically admitting students in the top 6 percent of their high school graduating class to the 2022 entering freshman class will fill 75 percent of available spaces. As a result, The University of Texas at Austin will automatically admit all eligible summer/fall 2022 and spring 2023 freshman applicants who rank in the top 6 percent of their high school graduating classes. This is the same percentage in use for summer/fall 2021 and spring 2022.

SB 175, passed in 2009, took effect with the 2011-12 academic year. With one exception, UT Austin has met the 75 percent threshold each year. As you are undoubtedly aware, growth in the number of Texas high school graduates over the past decade has translated into growth in applications for admission to UT Austin, as well as the number of UT Austin applicants eligible for automatic admission. According to the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education (WICHE), the number of high school graduates in Texas is projected to continue to increase through 2024-25 (Knocking at the College Door, December 2016).
