Scholarship and Honor Cord Guidelines

LifeShare wants to help your school save lives
and earn money

The LifeScholars Scholarship Program:

Summary: This program is designed to help cultivate the next generation of blood donors. Schools who encourage students, staff, faculty and parent participation in successful lifesaving blood drives will be awarded grants to help facilitate student learning and achievement.

- A. The minimum number of donors needed to qualify will be defined as 25% of the number of juniors and seniors enrolled at the end of the first semester in December.
- B. The school must host at least two blood drives each year.
- C. The school will earn $10 from each donation. Donors who give blood through an automated device will earn $20 for their school.
- D. LifeShare will reimburse the school the cost of one (1) substitute teacher for drives whose goal is more than 30 units. This is to allow the drive chair to help facilitate donors on the day of the drive rather than having to balance his/her time between the blood drive and the classroom.
- E. All grant checks will be distributed from May 1-June 30th. Checks will be made out in the name of the school – not a particular organization, student, club, etc.
- F. All grants must directly benefit students in the form of scholarships to attend accredited higher education entities, technical schools, or certification classes; or to increase access to student technology; or to help reduce or eliminate the costs for students to attend academic conferences, meetings, competitions, etc. Schools may develop additional criteria.

The LifeScholars Honor Cord Program provides public recognition to honor students at graduation who:

- Give at least (6) blood donations or (6) red blood cell units between his/her 16th birthday and five days prior to the graduation date. Seniors, in schools that are "revived" or new to the program who donate (3) times in their senior year are eligible.
- And/or who serve at least (2) years
